

3Con, Sprint Nextel and 3Leaf, Huawei (2008, 2010 and 2011)

Acquisitions thwarted by the Committee on Foreign Investment in the US (CFIUS) due to concerns relating to national security

Nexen, China National
Offshore Oil Corporation,
$15.1 bn (2013)

Canadian government imposed restrictions on acquisitions by state owned firms

Gland Pharma, Shanghai
Fosun Pharmaceutical
Group, $1.3 bn (2017)

Media reports suggest the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) has rejected the deal due to IP concerns

Myitsone Dam, China
Power Investment,
$3.6 bn (2006)

Project suspended in 2011; Myanmar may have to pay $800 mn penalty if project is scrapped

Unocal, China National
Offshore Oil Corporation,
$18.5bn (2005)

Bid dropped after security concerns raised in the Congress

Lease of 300,000
hectares of rural land,
Heilongjiang
Beidahuang Nongken
Group, $1.15 bn (2011)

Argentina's lower house passed a presidentially proposed bill limiting foreign ownership of rural land

Aixtron, Fujian Grand Chip
Investment Fund, $723 mn
(2016)

Takeover bid dropped following national security concerns. Germany, France and Italy urge the European Commission to revise rules on foreign investment

Hambantota Port, China
Merchant Ports Holding,
$1.12 bn (2016)

Rajapaksa government lost elections on fears of undue Chinese influence

Darwin Port,
Landbridge Group, $400 mn (2015)

Critical Infrastructure Centre established to identify national security risks posed by foreign investment in critical assets

GEOECONOMIC PUSHBACK TO CHINA